9. K-12 Report

The administrative team continues to review local, regional and State data to inform our decision-making around COVID-19 protocol and stays in communication with the local health department. With the region's November move to High activity level, HCS moved the program to fully remote for the week after Thanksgiving and provided onsite testing for staff, students and household members to support a safe return to onsite instruction. Insight from members of the Pandemic Response Team has been invaluable.

On November 19, 2020, Deirdra Grode and Mark Frasier (parent) as well as Madigan Frasier and Kayla Pansy (4th grade students) engaged in outreach for HCS at a Hoboken Housing event to share information about the school and its lottery and to distribute applications.

The Middle and Upper School robotics team, "Roboken," hosted their annual hour of code event for students in grades 2-5 on Tuesday, December 8.

10. Lower/Middle School Report

The administration reviewed results from the hybrid learning survey disseminated to families last month. Some of the takeaways were:

- The majority of families (59%) feel that the amount of work students are engaged with in our current model is sufficient.
- Families provided feedback around the use of technology and logistics that we are addressing (sending links to student emails, not just guardian emails, streamlining work submission for remote students in Lower School, etc.).
- Families are overwhelmingly grateful for our teachers and for the opportunity to have students onsite for school 4 days a week.

Our K-4 classes held their first publishing parties over the last month. Families were able to participate remotely through Zoom.

Three former HCS students - Aly Calmas, Julia Critz and Tessa Weaver received word that they were awarded Distinguished Honorable Mention Award in the 2020 Bow Seat Ocean Awareness Contest Poetry Category. Over 5,300 contest submissions were received from around the world. The group won this award for a poem they wrote last year in eighth grade science class and will receive a $100 cash scholarship. Their incredible poem, "Reversible Damage," asks the reader to read down from the first line for despair and read up from the last line for hope.

The Middle School debate team participated in a debate tournament on Saturday, December 5. Finn Getz, Narina Girotra, and Sami Gotimer worked as a team and won 11th place in the Varsity Division. Finn also won fourth place in the Speaker Awards in the Varsity Division. Congratulations to the team and their advisory, Ms. Lingechetty!

11. Upper School Report

The Upper School continues to maximize the opportunities of remote learning as we await the completion of the building. Teachers schedule one on one and small group sessions to support learners. They utilize the chat feature on zoom and Google Classroom to individualize feedback so that each student progresses and is challenged. Advisors and our school social worker are providing opportunities to support students as they develop executive functioning and management skills to cope with the stress of learning on their own. We continue to provide events that develop community as well, from Junior Jackbox online game events to Zoom holiday potlucks.

Seniors continue to work with the College and Career Counselor on their post high school plans. College acceptances are just beginning to come in, as other due dates are just approaching. Students have reported acceptances to the following schools:

Arizona State University
Butler University- Indiana
Michigan State University
Montclair State University (+ Presidential Scholars Program)
New Jersey City University
University of Maine
Western New England University
Westminster College- Pennsylvania
William Patterson College (+ Football program recruit)
