10. Executive Director's School Report

The HCS Community Art Show provided a beautiful opportunity to see Hoboken Charter School's mission of learner-centered practices grounded in principles of social justice and social action through a gallery of student work. Through this event, our community members saw the progression of our art program starting with our youngest students who are learning the fundamentals of art and entering a multi-year, mission-aligned experience where they will develop a sophisticated aesthetic sense; explore their own identities; reflect on the experiences of themselves and others through art; find their style, perspective and voice; and use art as a tool for social change. The culmination of this learning experience was notably visible in the work of the students in our upper grades. For those of you who could not attend, please take a look at this enclosed video highlighting our students' work. I want to thank Ms. Sanchez, our fabulous K-12 Art Teacher, who planned this event and supports our students in finding and sharing their unique perspective and voice, harnessing their creativity and developing and honing their technique.

The HCS community is celebrating LGBTQ+ Pride Month through a variety of activities designed to be meaningful and developmentally appropriate for all of our students. In June, all of our K-12 students have been exploring the rationale and significance of this commemorative month. Our youngest students celebrate the diversity of families and identities, take pride in what their unique family looks like and learn about people's right to love who they love and their agency to make choices including how they identify and express themselves. As our students enter the later elementary through upper school years, students recommit to being an ally and upstander and learn about notable members of the LGBTQ community and historical events that have supported or hindered the advancement of the rights of LGBTQ people. Activities include read-alouds by teachers and administrators and accompanying learning tasks (K-12), current event studies (5-12), our first PRIDE Month student-led coffeehouse (9-12), our first LGBTQ+ Studies course student-led Spirit Week (information is attached) (9-12) and Drag Queen Story Hour with Harmonica Sunbeam (K-4). I am particularly excited to share that for the first time, the HCS community will create a collaborative art piece with contributions from the members of our K-12 students and staff to reflect recent learning as well as our school community's pledge to inclusivity, allyship, advocacy and the celebration of our diverse identities. This permanent display will ultimately be visible to our whole community so all members feel seen, heard and supported and will serve as a representation of our school's expectation for all members of our community to honor and celebrate diversity and seek opportunities to be an ally, upstander and social justice advocate and champion. I shared an email with the community asking for partnership with the families through engagement in conversations with their child(ren) about the importance of individuals feeling free to be themselves without fear of judgment or punishment and underscore why it is our responsibility to be allies and upstanders in the face of unfair treatment. I shared an article to support these conversations as well.

K-12 families were sent a survey requesting how the School can most effectively communicate and work with families in partnership to provide a world-class, mission-driven experience for all our students.

HCS Middle School and Upper School Green Ambassadors worked together with Sra. Ortiz and Ms. Touri at the Riverview Community Garden planting, weeding, composting, observing the active beehives and giving tours of the garden.

HCS applied for a Climate Awareness Education Grant via the NJDOE and received $6,660 that will be put toward increasing labs supporting this mission-aligned academic work.

Across America, people Wear Orange on June 2- National Gun Violence Awareness Day- to honor victims and survivors of gun violence and call attention to this crisis that takes 120 lives every single day. HCS students and staff across K-12 wore orange in that shared message.

Our monthly scheduled Professional Development time is critical for our K-12 team to engage in professional growth to deliver a world class education at HCS. Earlier this month, teachers shared with one another examples of success stories in their classes around our mission-aligned work. Teachers shared exciting learner-centered and interage experiences their students engaged in this year grounded in principles of social justice and service-learning. As a team, we discussed challenges and opportunities to explore to enhance our mission work for the 2023-2024 school year.

HCS K-12 parents were invited to attend a session with Maria Sanders, LSW and PCI Certified Parent Coach, about Navigating Screen Time, Social Media and Gaming. The session was well-attended on our rooftop. We hope to work with Ms. Sanders again in the future.

Students from the Lower, Middle and Upper Schools in the Wisdom in Practice group celebrate AAPI month while practicing teamwork, collaboration and listening skills by making Asian inspired lanterns which symbolize good luck, health, prosperity and fortune.

Thanks to our 8th graders who donated a beautiful sign to HCS as their Class Gift to the school. This new sign reflects the evolution of our program underscoring the mission and that we are a K-12 community.

3rd graders wrote persuasive essays and worked with 11th graders to create accompanying posters persuading others to think about the dangers of smoking, deforestation, water pollution and unsafe online behaviors.

Following a successful volleyball season, upper school students had a pep rally with cheers from their classmates and a cross-division cheer squad.

11. Lower/Middle School Report

Congratulations to all the students in "Girls on the Run" in grades 3-5 who completed their 5K on Saturday, May 13 in Sparta and absolutely crushed it! For their self-designed service-learning project, eighth graders Adriana Lee and Kaelah Dealwis sponsored a banned book awareness campaign. In addition to making flyers and researching book ban legislation across the country, the girls contacted Little City Books and recommended they create a "banned book" section in the store.

Our Lower School Student Government Association distributed pre-purchased lemonade on Friday, May 26 and raised almost $200 for Alzheimer's Association, the leading voluntary health organization in Alzheimer's care, support and research.

Kindergarten students created Kindness Rocks and left them in Elysian Park to bring cheer to the community.

Congratulations to eighth graders Jordyn Eisen and Elsa Kahn who were selected as one of the 10 winning teams in New Jersey for this year's Panasonic Student Eco Citizenship Program - Eco Diary Competition. Jordyn and Elsa participated in the competition through the Green Bosses Mission Lab. Along with their classmates, they created student made items that earned $250 in sales at the Hoboken Earth Day Celebration, which was in turn donated to Liberty Humane Society. Jordyn and Elsa cataloged their work in class through various diary entries. Congratulations to Jordyn and Elsa and their advisor, Ms. Ortiz!

Fourth graders engage in social issue book clubs, reading books that are focused on social justice issues relevant to 4th graders, while they read Save Me A Seat by Sarah Weeks and Gita Varadarajan as a class mentor text. These topics include bullying, disability rights, loss, inequality, discrimination, social change, and social action. Students participate in class discussions as others share their thoughts, experiences, and personal ties to the social justice issues brought up in their book clubs.

Thanks to Mr. Keeler for planning another impressive Middle School science fair. And congratulations to our budding scientists who presented their research to staff, peers and families.

12. Upper School Report

Our Seniors have been incredibly busy this last month. They were all CPR certified here at school. They worked with their Senior advisors to plan and host a beautiful Prom and they had a fun trip to Six Flags! It has long been the tradition of Hoboken Charter School for Seniors to conduct a final project culminating their learning here. Seniors presented their projects at a Senior Night, each one demonstrating their own interests and expertise as seen through a lens of Social Justice. Topics ranged from racial discrimination in medical practices to music and mental health.

The Chemistry and Environmental Science classes held a Science Fair to share some of their work from the year.

The Upper School staff, led by our Academic Guidance Counselor Jen Feit, held a Career Day. Over 20 experts (and HCS alums!) volunteered their time to come speak to students about their careers and career paths. Students joined panels and presentations on everything from success in college to neuropsychology or public service jobs. In the afternoon, staff held life skills workshops on everything from car maintenance to resume writing and interview skills.

The GSA club and LGBTQ+ elective planned and hosted a Coffee House event featuring student artwork and performances on the topic of Pride. We were delighted to have local celebrity Harmonica Sunbeam emcee the event.
